Presented by:

WEIRTON AREA MUSEUM & CULTURAL CENTER

Sit back and enjoy as narrator Pam Makricosta takes you on a journey through the vast and rich history of Holliday's Cove from the days of the Revolution in 1776 until the year 1947, when Holliday's Cove lost its identity forever. Also examined is the history of Cove School and the Cove's relation to neighboring cities and towns of Steubenville, Follansbee, Colliers, New Cumberland, Marland Heights, Weirton Heights, and the unincorporated company town of Weirton. Wonderful music magically entwines with each chapter of history, beautifully enhanced by artwork of John Buxton, Mary Shakley Ferguson, Charles Chapman, and others. A well-balanced group of historians & commentators, including Mike Andochick, Jr., Goldie Baly, Herman Capito, the late C. Robert Cattrell, David Javersak, Dennis Jones, Michael Nogay, John Pandelios, and Mary Zwierzchowski, compliment each other in helping to bring Holliday's Cove back to you !
